

POPE BENEDICT WILL BE BURIED WEDNESDAY; TRADITIONAL NINE DAYS' FUNERAL SERVICES START

Decision to Postpone Interment Permits Thousands to View Body—Preparations for Conclave to Elect New Pope Are Made.

Rome, Jan. 24.—The traditional nine days' funeral ceremonies for the late Pope Benedict XV, began at 9:30 o'clock this morning, when mass was celebrated by the senior canon of St. Peter's Cathedral. A similar ceremony will be conducted each morning for the succeeding eight days. The burial of the pontiff will not take place until tomorrow and the body will remain in state until noon Wednesday.

As the requiem mass was celebrated this morning the Julian choir sang softly in the chapel.

The senior canon gave absolution at the papal bier.

The decision to defer the entombment of Pope Benedict XV until tomorrow gave thousands of devout Catholics an opportunity to pay their devotions while the body rested in state in the basilica of St. Peter's today. It was a scene of awe, splendor and grief as the unending line of mourners passed before the scarlet catafalque with its passive occupant.

A congregation of cardinals had been held early in the day and they expressed the wish that measures be taken to preserve the body for the view of the thousands who had been unable to enter St. Peter's, Monday.

Announcement was made early in the morning, that the body would be exhibited in state all day long and possibly tomorrow with burial tomorrow evening. The body will be placed in a crypt in St. Peter's grotto between the tombs of Queen Christine of Sweden and Pope Pius VI.

Thousands of visitors have poured into Rome over night, and shortly after dawn a long line began forming outside of St. Peter's, marshalled by police and soldiers. There were 4,000 soldiers on guard and most of the policemen in Rome were stationed in the piazza of St. Peter's.

Mechanical preparations for the conclave were begun today when masons commenced to seal up completely the room in which the papal election will be conducted. The telephone wires will have to be removed.

The non-Italian vote in the conclave has been reduced from 30 to 29 by the death of Cardinal Almaraz Y. Santos, Archbishop of Toledo. The Italian membership of the sacred college is 31.

There have been increasing signs of reconciliation between the Vatican and the Italian government. Upon orders from the ministry of Marine all the Italian warships have lowered their flags at half mast.

There is no change in the predictions as to Benedict XV's successor, except that Cardinal-priest Giuseppe Prisco, archbishop of Naples is now mentioned. Friends of Cardinal Louis Nazario Begin archbishop of Quebec are urging his election. There seems little likelihood, however that a non-Italian will be chosen.

Disregarding the irreverence of the actions, the gambling houses in the fashionable watering places on the Italian and French Riviera are "making book" upon the outcome of the conclave next month.

The men and women betters are allowed to wager on any of the sixty one cardinals and the "house" will take the opposition side.

According to a news agency the government has issued official denial of a report printed in the Popolo Romano that Premier Bonomi has sent a confidential circular letter to the various prefects suggesting pressure upon the cardinals.

WILL POSTPONE FINANCIAL AND ECONOMIC MEET

Great Britain to Cooperate With U. S. at Conference.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The Genoa economic conference, scheduled to meet on March 8 and discuss measures for the economic and financial rehabilitation of Europe, will in all probability be postponed it was predicted today, by European delegates attending the armament conference.

London, Jan. 24.—British officials close to Downing street intimated today that Great Britain would cooperate with the United States for world rehabilitation along the lines laid down by America if the Washington government will participate in the international economic conference at Genoa.

Despite the flat declaration by Premier Poincare that France will not consent to discussion of indemnity at Genoa, the British believe that rearrangement of reparations must be part of the agreement.

The British also agree with the United States that armies and navies should be reduced as a definite step toward economic recovery.

The British are not taking any active part in the preparations of the agenda. This is being worked out at Rome.

Washington, Jan. 24.—(By International News Service)—President Harding and his advisers have informally conveyed to European statesmen in Washington, that the U. S. does NOT look with favor at this time on the Genoa economic conference, scheduled for March 8. Invitations for which have already been issued by the Italian government.

This fact led to predictions in European quarters today that the conference will be called off or postponed until some later date.

HOG PRICES TAKE JUMP IN CLEVELAND

Cleveland, Jan. 24.—Top hogs sold at the Cleveland stock yards this morning for $10.00 per hundred weight, the highest price in several months. Small receipts and buying to fit orders was given as the cause for the better price. No considerable drop, however, is in prospect, it was said by officials.

HEALTHY SIGN SEEN IN ORDERS

Washington, Jan. 24.—Indications of improved business conditions throughout the country were declared by Secretary Hoover to be seen in the increased orders for equipment being placed by the railroads.

The railroads, Mr. Hoover said, report that their inventories of 1920 and during government control have been practically worked off and they must resume the purchasing of equipment. This, he declared, was a healthy sign from the manufacturing point of view.

GREAT BRITAIN TO MEET THE FRENCH

London, Jan. 24.—Great Britain today agreed to a request from France that the Anglo-French foreign ministers meet on February 10 to discuss issues in which the two countries are interested. These include chiefly the proposed treaty of alliance, the near East and the possibilities of future penalties upon Germany.

"These Men, They're Cats," Says Lovely Mary Garden

"Directa" of Chicago Grand Opera Company Declares Women are Peaceful Compared With Men—Famous Tenor "No Gentlemen."

New York, Jan. 24.—"Oh, these men," said Mary Garden, today. "They are cats."

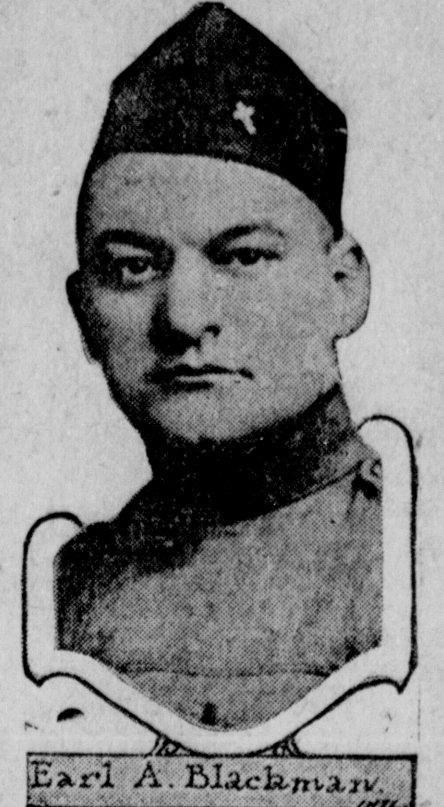

And Mary, the lovely, having arranged her becoming wine-red sport hat at a more comely angle delivered herself of the further opinion that Muratore, the famous French tenor, was "no gentleman."

It was suggested that for the nounced his exit from the Chicago Grand Opera Company at the end of the present season because of Mary's temperament.

"These men are the cats, not the women," said Mary, waving her swag stick by way of emphasis. "All my troubles in my company have been with the men—the women are peaceful."

This was suggested that for the sake of peace she might be planning

FORGERY CHARGES ARE MADE AGAINST TWO IN CLEVELAND

Employer, However, Exonerates Stenographer and Assumes Blame.

Cleveland, Jan. 24.—Meyer Lubin, proprietor of Cleveland Embroidery and Button Company, and his stenographer, Dorothy Draginsky, 22, will appear in police court, today, to answer charges of forgery by which it is said, $40,000 was secured. Both were arrested, yesterday. Miss Draginsky was released, last night, on bond of $5,000 but Lubin was unable to furnish $20,000 bond required.

In a statement, police say that Lubin exonerated his stenographer and took the entire blame on his own shoulders. He asserted most of the money was lost by him in backing men who claimed to be engaged in bringing in liquor of pre-Volstead purity to Cleveland.

He first advanced $5,000, he declared, but his acquaintances soon came back and told of hard luck stories and he gave them more money. Then one of the men was arrested and he refused to have anything further to do with them.

The means by which Lubin is alleged to have secured his funds was by discounting forged orders, which Miss Draginsky is said to have written at his dictation.

FURTHER RELIEF TO MINERS OPPOSED

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 24.—Strong opposition to furnishing relief to destitute miners in the New River Coal fields, developed here last night at a meeting to discuss means of meeting an unfortunate situation.

Speakers claimed the miners in that territory refuses to meet a wage adjustment to farm when the mines closed or to work on a railroad construction job provided by the coal operators.

The meeting finally decided to form a relief chest to assist families said to be practically starving. Women and children are the chief victims.

INITIATE CANDIDATE

One candidate was initiated into Zanetta Council Degree of Pocomontas, at the regular meeting held at the lodge hall, Monday night. Thirty-five members were present for the meeting.

"I met with such cordiality and good will in India during my travels that I am encouraged to hope that in the future of India the empire will fully uphold the fine traditions of the past."

The cabinet message had congratulated the prince upon the success of his visit.

It is felt that the prince's message augurs well for the negotiations of the Indian mission.

PRINCE OF WALES IS NOT DISTURBED

London, Jan. 24.—That the Prince of Wales is not worried over political unrest in India was indicated by the following message received from him today in response to a message of thanks and congratulation from Premier Lloyd George and his cabinet.

"I met with such cordiality and good will in India during my travels that I am encouraged to hope that in the future of India the empire will fully uphold the fine traditions of the past."

The cabinet message had congratulated the prince upon the success of his visit.

It is felt that the prince's message augurs well for the negotiations of the Indian mission.

OPERATIONS IN PLANTS INCREASED

Massillon, O., Jan. 24.—Industrial operations in two large steel plants of the Central Steel company were increased today when two additional open hearth furnaces and several hot mills were resumed work after being shut down for several months. Operations in the open health plant of the company were increased fifty percent, only two open hearth furnaces being in operation previous to Monday. The company's action has given employment to several hundred men.

TO PROBE ALIEN PROPERTY CASE

Japan Declares She Has No Ulterior Aim In Russia

Refusal to Withdraw Troops From Siberia Cause for Worry in Some Circles, But U. S. Officials Will Accept Word of Delegates.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Japan's refusal to withdraw her troops from Siberia, for the present—although solemnly assuring the world powers gathered in Washington that she has no ulterior aims in the vast Russian territory is expected to bring the Siberian issue to an early close, it was conceded, today, by conference officials.

An effort may be made to fix some tentative date in the future for the evacuation, but even this is doubtful and it was regarded as highly probable that after today's discussion the Siberian question will be disposed of with the adoption of a general resolution in which all the powers will declare their peaceful intention toward Russian territory.

The American attitude toward Siberia will be outlined in today's secret session by Secretary of State Hughes. The U. S. feels a particular concern over the Siberian issue, because military intervention was inaugurated as an American-Japanese undertaking, ostensibly to protect the withdrawal of Czech-Slovak troops from Russian territory.

Japan's enemies in Washington—and they are legion—were quick to point, today, that the fate of Siberia is thus hanging on a Japanese promise. Korean delegates and the Far East republic mission, who have knocked vainly on the conference door for recognition in Washington, pointed out that Japan made a similar declaration of peaceful intent toward Korea in 1902, in the opening paragraph of the first Anglo-Japanese alliance.

"And look where we are today," said the Koreans, who are following the course of the Far East negotiations with intense interest.

American officials do not conceal the fact that they would like something a little more definite than a mere declaration of peaceful intent, but somewhat impatiently point out that the U. S. cannot properly go behind the words of friendly powers to question their motives.

A day of debate was in prospect, today, when the committee met again. All of the powers are expected to announce their adherence to the "moral trust" of Russian interests, after which a resolution will be drafted.

Elsewhere the conference marked time, today. The Japanese and Chinese delegates have cleared up all collateral issues in Shanghai and now are flatly up against the deadlocked issue of the railroad. The five power naval treaty also continued in deadlock over the fortifications situation.

RETIREMENT OF KING OF GREECE REPORTED NEAR

Rumor Says Constantine Will Step Out in Son's Favor

London, Jan. 24.—Kin Constantine of Greece is preparing to abdicate in favor of his eldest son Prince George, according to an Athens dispatch to the Daily Express today. It is said that the allies have explained to the Athens government that relations cannot be established between them and Greece until Constantine goes.

The Greek minister discredits the report that Constantine many retire "as the result of British pressure." He pointed out, on the contrary that negotiations now are under way here for a British loan to the Greek government.

GREENE COUNTY ROAD CONTRACT TO BE AWARDED

Awarding of the contract for the improvement of the Cedarville and Jamestown road, consisting of 7.8 miles, will be made by the state highway commission in Columbus, Wednesday, it was announced, Tuesday afternoon.

The bids were opened, Saturday, in Columbus and tabulated, showing that N. E. Putnam, of Van Wert, is the low bidder for the job, his bid being $123,523.16, for bituminous macadam with either tar or asphalt.

This bid, if accepted, will, as announced by Senator Charles Brand here, Saturday, represent a saving of $50,000 under the estimate made last summer, and about that much saving over the low bid received when bids for the road were received last August and all rejected. The next lowest bid received this time, is $141,000.

County commissioners had no official information, Monday, that Putnam, the low bidder, had withdrawn his bid on the grounds that he had made a mistake in figuring the price. This report was denied, Monday afternoon, to County Surveyor W. J. Davis by a representative of the State Highway Department, over the telephone. Local officials believe that the road will be sold to Putnam when it is finally announced, Wednesday.

KNIGHT IS BOOMED FOR GOVERNOR AT SPECIAL MEETING

Resolutions are Adopted by Republicans of Ohio Districts.

Washington, Jan. 24.—"If Governor Davis decides to be a candidate for re-election I shall not be a candidate for nomination for the governorship of Ohio," declared Representative Charles Landon Knight, Republican of Akron today.

"Any announcement by me as to possible candidacy for the governorship would be premature if made in advance of a statement of Governor Davis as to his plans," said Knight.

Akron, O., Jan. 24.—Responding to the call of municipal Judge Claude J. Minor, of Sandusky, nearly 100 representative Republicans of the 13th, 14th and 19th congressional districts met in the Hollenden hotel at Cleveland, last evening, to boom congressman C. L. Knight of Akron for governor of Ohio.

Resolutions were adopted and sent to Congressman Knight at Washington urging him to become a candidate and notifying him that work would be started at once to organize "Knight for governor clubs" in the eight towns that were represented at the meeting.

Judge Minor declared the meeting exceeded his fondest expectations and only strengthened the conclusions he reached last summer that Congressman Knight was the logical man to lead the Republican party to victory this fall.

Former State Senator George W. Sieber, of Akron said:

"This year more than any other we need to elect a man of courage to that office. The country is becoming anything but a republican form of government and it is our solemn duty aside from political party affiliation to put a man in the state house at Columbus who will restore to the people the sacred rights which the federal and state governments have been taking from them by paternalistic legislation. Mr. Knight is such a man, he is not afraid to act."

"FATTY" CONTINUES STILL A WITNESS AGAINST HIMSELF

State Climaxes Case Against Arbuckle in Evidence.

San Francisco, Jan. 24.—Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle continued, today, to assume the role of a witness against himself.

The state climaxed its case against the comedian on trial a second time for manslaughter by reading into the record the entire transcript of "Fatty's" testimony at his first trial in his own behalf.

Assistant District Attorney Friedman had more than a half hour of reading, today, when court convened to complete the record.

The states object is understood to have been three-fold.

By having his testimony read, the element of his appearance on the stand was minimized.

Through the reading by Friedman, emphasis was placed on certain replies made by Arbuckle on cross examination in the first trial, particularly with reference to time.

District Attorney Brady would not admit, today, that he had given up his fight to lay before the jury what he declares to have been the facts concerning the evidence of Zev Prevon who testified she had been coerced. Night sessions were asked. Judge Louderback refused the initial request but intimated he might order them later.

HINES DENIES THAT RAILS WERE BROKEN

Washington, Jan. 24.—Walker D. Hines, former director general of railroads unequivocally denied today that the nation's railroads were "broken down" when the government turned them back to private ownership in 1919.

Hines declared before the senate interstate commerce committee that, on the contrary government control had resulted in "improved equipment, better morale and more all around efficiency."

"They were in better shape when returned than when the government took them over," Hines said.

SINZ BUILDING IS SOLD TO H. E. SCHMIDT MONDAY

The Henry Sinz building on West Main street has been sold to H. E. Schmidt, the deal being closed, Monday, it was announced here, Tuesday.

The consideration was $12,000, it was stated, Tuesday, by Mr. Schmidt, who immediately on assuming possession of the property, expects to remodel it into a modern business room, with a comfortable living apartment on the second floor.

Henry Sinz, who sold the building, Monday, has been occupying the living quarters on the second floor, and operating a soft drink cafe on the ground floor of the building, his occupancy of the building having continued since its erection a number of years ago.

Mr. Sinz, who will close out his local business soon, is planning to go to California, for an indefinite stay.

BOSCH MAGNETO COMPANY FIGHT BOBS UP AGAIN

Subpoena Served on Col. T. W. Miller Property Custodian.

BEFORE GRAND JURY Will Investigate Transfer of Former German Holdings

Washington, Jan. 24.—A subpoena has been served on Colonel Thomas W. Miller, the alien property custodian, ordering him to appear before the federal grand jury in Boston, on January 27, with all records bearing upon the sale by his predecessor, A. Mitchell Palmer of the vast properties of the Bosch Magneto Company which were seized by the government during the war, it was learned officially today.

The Bosch Magneto company now the American Bosch Magneto Company was taken over by the United States as enemy owned property in May, 1918 and was sold by Palmer to Martin E. Kern, of Allentown, Pa., on Dec. 7, 1918 for $4,150,000.

Although it had been generally understood that the investigation of the Bosch company ordered by the department of justice was to be confined solely to its war contracts, it was revealed, today, that the federal grand jury in Boston will inquire into the transfer of the former German properties from the alien property custodian to Howard D. Griffith, acting as agent for Martin E. Kern.

Officials of the department of justice who have been gathering evidence with respect to the sale of the magneto, stock, patents and trade marks are expected to go to Boston today to assist District Attorney Robert Harris in presenting the case of the government to the grand jury.

Through the specific demands for records made upon Colonel Miller in the subpoena served upon him it was revealed that officials and employees of the office of the alien property custodian will figure prominently in the grand jury investigation.

Department of justice agents were understood, today, to be continuing their investigation of the details of the Bosch case.

Incidentally there has been repetition of charges made against former Attorney General Palmer when he appeared before the senate judiciary committee in 1919, in connection with hearings on his confirmation. At that time efforts were made to block his confirmation, because of the position which he held when the properties were sold. It was alleged then that, although only $4,150,000 was obtained by the government for the Bosch stock it was worth approximately $7,000,000.

Additional charges have been made now and are to be probed by the grand jury.

It probably will be brought out in the Boston investigation that Kern acknowledged receipt; that Palmer assigned it to Kern on January 13, 1919 and that the money for 250 shares of Bosch stock was not credited to the account of Robert Bosch and Gustav Klein with the treasury department until February 27, 1919.

It also will be shown through records now in the hands of the government that the sale to Kern was approved by Francis P. Garvan.

WATERWAY PROJECT THROUGH OHIO IS IN FORMATIVE STAGE

Advocates From Many Cities Attend Meeting In Cincinnati

Cincinnati, Jan. 24.—United States Engineers of the Rivers and Harbors board are holding a meeting at Hotel Gibson today with prominent waterways advocates from towns and cities along the proposed route of the Lake Erie to the Ohio River barge canal. To secure a route, a maximum tonnage of 30,000,000 is required.

A likely route would be by the branch canal from the Ohio to Lake Michigan by way of Defiance, Ohio, Fort Wayne, Indiana and Lake Michigan to Chicago.

Delegates are here from Toledo, New Bremen, Portsmouth, Hamilton, St. Marys, Dayton, Fort Wayne, Defiance, Lockland, Cleveland, Marietta, Beattyville Ky. and many other points.

DEATH STATEMENT OF VICTIM GIVEN IN MURDER TRIAL

Wilmington, Jan. 24.—The death-bed statement of Mrs. Susan M. Whitlow, 56, one of the three alleged victims of T. Oliver Vandervort, on trial here for a triple murder, which occurred last November, 19, was the chief evidence introduced by the state as the trial opened, Monday.

Dr. A. P. Basinger, Blanchester, who was called to the Whitlow home, near Cuba, following the shooting, testified that Mrs. Whitlow was still living when he arrived and that when he asked her who did the shooting she replied, "I am afraid to tell."

Dr. Basinger testified that Mrs. Whitlow then asked him if she was going to die, and when he told her: "Oliver Vandervort is the man who shot me. He not only shot me, but also shot my daughter and Howard Bosler, who are in the next room." Dr. Basinger testified that Mrs. Whitlow reiterated these statements while in the ambulance going to the hospital where she died.

Dr. Basinger was the first witness called in Vandervort's case, who is accused of killing his twice-divorced wife, Mrs. Bertha Whitlow Vandervort, 37, her mother, Mrs. Whitlow and her alleged sweetheart, Howard Bosler. Following his arrest he denied any connection with the crime. The act is alleged to have taken place while Vandervort was drunk.

Testimony of Vandervort's nine-year-old son, Robert, who was the only witness to the tragedy, and who is reported to have said "Papa did it," will be introduced, Tuesday, it is said. Hours before court opened, Monday, the court house was packed for the trial.

TITLE HOLDER WILL MEET CLEVELANDER

Cleveland, Jan. 24.—Irving Spero of Youngstown, present title holder will defend his title in the final round of the championship tournament of the Ohio Chess Association here, against W. J. Huske, of Cleveland. Spero's series of games with S. H. Shapiro now stand one game won by Spero, one drawn and one adjourned, but the adjourned position is such that Spero must win. Huske last night defeated Hugo Hokman, city champion of Cleveland 2 1-2 to 1-2. The first game of the final round which is, of five games, will be played this evening. Spero is picked as the probable winner of the match.

MONEY PLEDGED BY MOTHERS' CIRCLE

Twenty five dollars to be donated to the Community Chest Fund was pledged by the members of the mother's circle of the McKinley School, at the meeting held at the school auditorium, Monday afternoon.

The money will be raised by the organization by a series of entertainments given at the school. The money donated will be apart from the amount in the treasury of the organization and will be raised entirely through the efforts of the members. A definite plan for the entertainments has not been arranged. Twelve members were present to take part in the discussion, Monday.

PLAN EXTENSIVE TRAINING CAMPS

Washington, Jan. 24.—Training of 3,000 officers and 20,000 men in each of the nine army corps areas during the coming summer is planned by the war department, Brigadier General William Lassiter informed the senate military committee.

General Lassiter said the troops would be assigned not only to the one main camp which the war department desires to retain in each corps area, but to a number of other camps to effect a transportation saving. Temporary buildings erected during the war will be utilized and where necessary troops will be placed under canvas.

Stop! Look! Listen! How Xenia Aided Poor of City In 1897

With the launching in this city, Monday, of a drive for funds to finance a larger constructive and educational program for the Opportunity Schools and the Social Service League of Xenia, it is of interest to the public to be reminded that Xenians responded with something like magical promptness and generosity twenty-five years ago in behalf of plans for relief under the direction of the Women's Christian Benevolent Association.

It was the trying year of 1897. This was before the State Bureau of Public Health was an active organization, calling the public to action by propaganda spread broadcast, as it is today. This was before the public in general was trained, to prove its conception of brotherhood and high citizenship by vicarious support of constructive efforts to decrease physical and moral degeneration, and thus to provide a more helpful future for those who are children among us. This was before Xenia had the well-tested, well-organized projects for constructive relief of destitution and its causes that it possesses today in the Opportunity Schools and the Social Service League. Yet almost over night there arose a sum of money, supplemented by donations of products of the soil, that might seem the work of fairies, if we did not know of the finer source of good that lies in the human heart.

The record which follows of how this came about is provided at the suggestion of one of the active workers in the Benevolent Association at the time. "One day Mr. W. B. Harrison met

DANGER OF JUST LETTING A COLD RUN ITS COURSE

Common Coughs and Colds That Hang on Persistently Are Apt to Lead to Serious Complications, Declare Authorities.

Public Warned to Beware of a Three Days' Cough and Break It Up Before It's Too Late, by Taking Kurokol, the New Scientific Discovery.

Money Refunded in Every Instance Where Kurokol Fails to Bring Relief.

Leading authorities are using every effort to arouse the public to the danger of letting common colds just run their course, for it is now definitely known that many serious lung complications such as pneumonia, grippe, etc., are the direct result of colds that hang on persistently.

Colds are curable and preventable and it is a duty everyone owes himself as well as his neighbors to break up any cold they may contract, before some serious disease gets him in its clutches. It is pointed out that a three days cough is nature's warning and the time for immediate action has arrived.

Of all the cough and cold remedies, Kurokol, the new scientific treatment, which has been accomplishing such remarkable results all over the United States and Canada, probably provides the safest, surest and quickest, as well as the most practical treatment for colds yet discovered.

According to the statements of thousands who have used it, Kurokol is almost magical in its effect. The first dose usually stops the tendency to sneezing and coughing, and relieves the feeling of discomfort, and the second and third doses usually suffice to stop the progress of a cold altogether.

The wonderful efficiency of Kurokol in breaking up a cold is best shown by the fact that all druggists are instructed to refund money in any case where it fails to give satisfactory results after three doses have been taken.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

PASTOR TALKS ON THE GREAT REFUSAL

Facing the severest cold of the winter, a good congregation assembled at the First Reformed Church last night for the group evangelistic services, and they were not disappointed either in the spirit of the meeting or in the message of the Rev. Dr. D. D. Dodes, preacher, who in an intensely interesting and forceful manner told of the young man who came to Christ, asking for eternal life, a refined, cultured, rich moral young man, but notwithstanding his many excellencies was told he lacked the principal thing.

He called especial attention to three mistakes of this young man: He had a wrong estimate of Christ. He looked upon him as a good man, but not as Lord and Saviour. Many today are doing the same. Christ is LORD.

His second mistake was regarding himself, thinking because of his many excellencies, he was all but sufficient, whereas he was full of sin and selfishness. In his estimate of salvation, thinking it might be won in some other way than through Jesus Christ. Christ alone can secure it for us, and when he turned his back on Christ, he turned his back on heaven and eternal life, and went to despair. He would not meet the conditions, and by his Great Refusal of Jesus lost all. Many are doing the same today. Special music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wolf.

Services Tuesday evening will be held at 7:30 at which time the pastor Rev. E. W. Middleton will preach.

WOULD-BE ARTISTS AID MC MANUS IN DRAWING MR. JIGGS

Roman and romin', acquiline, hook, straight, pug, inquisitive and all other brands of nasal appendages were employed by would-be artists in tracing the missing features of that famous cartoon character, "Mr. Jiggs," of "Bringing Up Father" fame, which appeared in the Gazette and Republican recently.

Almost one hundred amateur artists, took pencil or pen in hand, and with varying degrees of success, traced off the missing nose, mouth and cigar of the famous newspaper cartoon character that has made millions laugh. This stack of hand-finished pictures is piled on the desk of the contest editor of the newspaper awaiting the decree of judgment that will win for some of the artists, tickets to the cartoon musical comedy "Bringing Up Father in Wall Street" which will be presented at the Opera House here, Thursday night, under arrangements with the Standard Amusement Company.

Mr. Jiggs of the musical comedy is said to be an excellent repetition in life of George McManus' cartoon character; and if the amateur artists had had an opportunity to see him first, they would undoubtedly have more nearly copied the much-abused Jiggs' insignificant features.

TO MANUFACTURE KNIVES IN XENIA ON SMALL SCALE

I. H. Anderson, Hillsboro knife manufacturer, is going to locate permanently in Xenia.

This he made known to members of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce who met in special session, Monday night, to consider the proposition of the Highland County man.

The board looked favorably upon Mr. Anderson's plan to go into the knife manufacturing business in this city, the favorable attitude taking shape in the appointment of a committee consisting of Charles Kobbie, C. A. Weaver and H. M. Fudge to investigate more carefully the prospective new industry.

Mr. Anderson, who has been in this city for several days in an attempt to arrange a trade of his Highland County fruit farm for real estate or property in Xenia, met with the board, Monday night and explained his plans to start in business here. At present he is manufacturing knives by hand on a small scale but the local business will be on an enlarged scale he told the board members.

That only a small amount of machinery and a small place of business would be required, was Anderson's statement to the board members. He explained that he now makes three knives a day by hand, but with electric power such as he could obtain here and a small amount of machinery, he could turn out 25 knives a day or with three workmen, increase his output to 100 knives a day, which would retail at $1.50 apiece.

The knife manufacturer told board members that a large stock flotation scheme would be unnecessary, and that it was his plan to start on a small scale which would require very little capital. Board members were convinced that a proper sales force would make such a factory a permanent industry here. Should it be started the factory will manufacture other keen edge tools.

KU KLUX KLAN INVADES XENIA

The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, incorporated at Atlanta, Ga. and purporting to be the successor of the order of the same name that was launched after the Civil War, is now attempting to invade the quiet and peaceful precincts of Xenia.

A mytic communication from the "aulic of the imperial wizard," one S. mmons, who has gained considerable adverse and uncompromising publicity during recent investigations and through whom among chiefs of the order, he started, states that a representative of the secret order will be in Xenia at the Regal Hotel, January 25, 26 and 27, between the hours of nine and two in the morning and after six o'clock in the evening to receive applications of prospective members.

REVIVAL SERVICES BEING CONDUCTED

The revival services are in progress at the Church of the Nazarene. Rev. Chilton the evangelist arrived last Saturday and had charge of the Sunday services.

Brother Chilton took for his text, 2 Cor. 6:12. He brought out the thought that we are unlimited in God, but we limit God in ourselves.

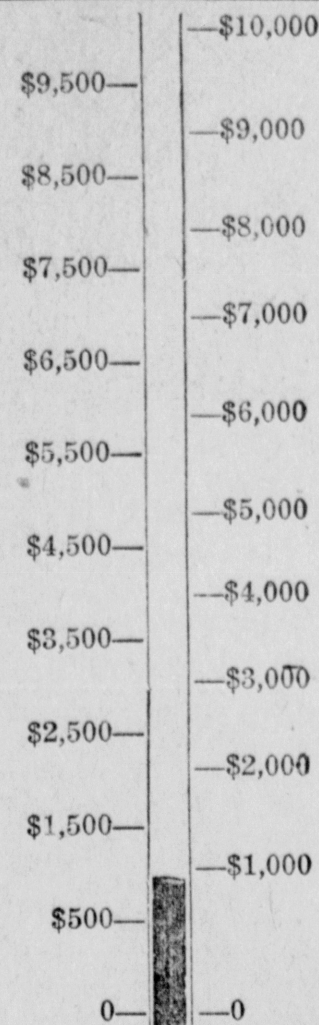

He said in part: "The message was owned and blessed of God. God vindicated the preaching of His word with six seekers at the mourners bench. We are living in the day and age when we often hear people say, well the time of revivals are over; but from the results of the working of the Spirit in our services I am convinced God is the same, yesterday, today and forever. The trouble is not with God, but it is with His professed followers."

Sunday evening Brother Chilton took for his text, 1 Thess. 4:7. "God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness." He brought out the thought that the call to holiness is not the call of some preacher or even the Nazarene Church, but it is the call of God, to every truly converted soul. The attendance at these services was good.

Monday night Brother Chilton preached on our "Inheritance" showing us our privileges in Christ Jesus. Brother and Sister Watkin have charge of the singing. The revival services will continue throughout the week, at 7:30 p. m.

BORINGS TO MEET AGGRESSIVE FIVE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

When the Borings basketball five faces the West Side Merchants, of Dayton, Wednesday night, they will meet a formidable aggregation of pill tossers according to advices from the Gem City.

Johnny Ruehl, one of the best forwards who ever sighted a net, is in a shooting position for the victors, with Al Dudley at the other forward position. Yearick a lad with a reach and range it at the jump, while Lee Fenner, former Dayton high school and Triangle football and basketball star, is at one guard and Dalton, another good defensive man, is at the other position.

The Borings will likely use Stephens and Muterspaw at the forwards, with Cox at center and Solowitz and Curlett at the guards. The Borings Juniors and Pirates will furnish the preliminary at 7:15 o'clock.

WILL ADDRESS MEETING TUESDAY

Rev. Ralph M. Fox will address the Christian Endeavor Society of Xenia, Tuesday evening at the First Presbyterian Church at 7:30 it was announced, Tuesday afternoon.

The county officers of the Christian Union will be present and young people urged to attend the meeting.

COMMUNITY CHEST NOW HAS $1,000 ON SECOND DAY

Xenia had contributed $1,000 toward the $10,000 goal of its Community Chest campaign for the benefit of allied charities up until noon, Tuesday.

This figure was tallied following reports made at the luncheon of team captain and committee workers held at the Elk's Club, Tuesday.

Captains of the business and professional men's teams, of the woman's clubs team, the medical association and the church committee, turned in partial reports of their activities the second day of the drive, at the luncheon, Tuesday. More reports were expected through the day, with the committee launching on the afternoon's work to cover the territory allotted to them.

Buttons to be worn by all who have pledged amounts to the fund, arrived, Tuesday morning, and are being distributed to those who have signed to donate to the campaign fund. Window cards are also being given to merchants and business houses that have pledged amounts, and circulars showing the operation of the Social Service League will be left in local stores and banks for distribution.

The "dummy" clock at the Court House, which is supposed to tell how much money has been raised to date in the campaign, has been failing in its duty, because the hands would not stay "put". It was fixed Tuesday afternoon, so that its minute hand will point to the amount in hand all the time.

Change now from spotty hot air heat to ARCOLA'S hot water warmth

RIGHT NOW, in the middle of winter, is the economical time to make the change. Your Heating Expert has much more time now than he will have later on.

And you need not hesitate because the days are cold. Your furnace or stoves can remain until ARCOLA is installed and at work.

The three cold months are coming

The months when chilly bed-rooms mean discomfort for adults and the danger of coughs and colds for the children. What a satisfaction to have an American Radiator in every room, sending out its healthful hot-water warmth.

What a delight in the morning to come down to a dining-room comfortably warm. What a comfort to have all the hot water you want for washing and bathing.

All these comforts come with ARCOLA, and the installation can be made in a very few days. Telephone your Heating Expert (he may be classified as "Plumber" or "Steamfitter"); ask him for an estimate.

Do it now—today—and enjoy ARCOLA's friendly warmth through the three cold months that are still to come.

ARCOLA's initial cost is surprisingly low and the cost comes back to you. Thousands of ARCOLA owners testify that ARCOLA pays for itself in the fuel it saves.

DODGE PAID $825,000 FOR CROWN NECKLACE.

Mystery surrounding the purchase price of the ill-fated pearl necklace of Catharine of Russia, purchased by Horace E. Dodge for his wife, just previous to his death, was cleared by a statement from Howard Bloomer, chairman of the Board of Directors of Dodge Brothers, and executor of the Dodge estate, that Mr. Dodge paid $825,000 for it.

Benquet Brothers are suing Cartier, Inc., of New York, who made the sale for $380,000, which they claim is still due them as their share of the profits in handling the necklace. They brought the necklace to this country from Russia, where it was a part of the Bolshevik spoils from the Russian crown jewels.

The local office of the treasury department is interesting itself to learn if duty was paid on the necklace when it was brought into the country. If the necklace was smuggled suit may be brought against Mrs. Dodge for 60 per cent of its value. If it was collected it would bring the cost of the necklace up to $1,320,000.

Persons close to Mrs. Dodge say that she had no knowledge of the necklace being smuggled and they doubt if Mr. Dodge had.

"Inasmuch as we have not been advised of an entry in the customs of duty paid on such a necklace we are working on the assumption that there is cause for investigation," said P. H. Gardner, United States Treasury agent. "The Government could bring civil action against Mrs. Dodge if the pearls were smuggled."

"Mrs. Dodge has been in mourning since the death of her husband. She never wore the jewels but twice and concluded last fall that her daughter, Mrs. Cromwell, would have more use for the jewels than she. She sent them to Philadelphia, where Mrs. Cromwell lives. They were sent by express. It was decided that was safer than sending them by a personal messenger."

What a nuisance to be so "handicapped" by wealth. Mrs. Dodge, at Detroit, could not wear the jewels on the street except as accompanied by a police officer, and Mrs. Cromwell, at Philadelphia, will have the same trouble. A woman on the street with such a wealth of gems around her neck, is a temptation to thieves far and away ahead of the uncertainty of the contents of a mail bag which so many are risking nowadays.

THE COBLER'S FORTUNE.

A worker in a Haverhill, Mass., shoe factory has recently inherited a fortune of $5,000,000. He says now that he and his family will not alter their present mode of life appreciably but will go on working in the factory and the home. Probably he will change his ideas as the possibilities of his wealth dawn upon him.

Just now he can't think what he would do if he gave up the shoemaking which is all the life he knows. And he does not want to be spoiled himself or have his children spoiled. His simplicity and modesty are commendable.

But presently he will begin to see that it is possible to keep busy in many healthful interests. More than that he will realize opportunity instead of ruin. More than that he will realize that a man of such fortune has no business to hang on to a small job which another man needs. He should be creating jobs instead.

PASTOR MAY TELL ONE OF FLOCK NOT TO WED.

Clergymen have a right to counsel members of their flock against marriage if such marriage might prove harmful to health and dangerous to the welfare of children born of such union. That view was taken by a jury that decided the $5000 slander suit brought by William E. Courtright against the Rev. W. S. Crandall, pastor of the Simpson Street Methodist Episcopal Church of Scranton, Pa. The jury returned a verdict for the minister after deliberation of only fifteen minutes.

Courtright sued for slander on the allegation that what the clergyman told his fiancée, Miss Eleanor Warner, of Ashley, concerning his health and the history of his family resulted in the breaking of their engagement.

The minister answered that whatever he did was without malice and wholly in the line of service of pastor to a member of his flock. He denied telling her that Courtright was physically unfit for marriage, but said he told her the family history of the Courtright family were cripples and that some were insane.

Miss Warner testified she had broken her engagement before going to her pastor, and what he had told her was not such as to warrant her in going ahead with her marriage plans if she had such intention.

Do You Play Auction Bridge?

Come on in. The Game is fine.
They all are doing it.

"Straws Show the Way the Wind Blows"

The straw or trash of the discard in Auction is most important, and also most difficult.

The only rule which is a blanket one is "discard to protect your hand". Now, what will protect the hand?

1. The discard from strength on a trump declaration, and from weakness (protecting or guarding honors) on no-trump.

This is the most generally used and most logical discard, because with the declared trump against you, you are not liable to bring in your own or your partner's long suit, but at no-trump it is sometimes possible to do so.

2. The discard always from strength has its advantages, especially for the beginner, as it will protect high cards in short suits often, but at the same time may occasionally cost a trick in the long suit.

3. The discard always from weakness has this great disadvantage, as it would often compel the player to unguard an honor which would make a re-entry and stop the strong suit of the adversary, and also gives the declarant the advantage of knowing which hand to finesse against.

If you have once led, you have shown strength, and may then discard from any suit to protect your hand. Discard only once from strength, and then for protection.

The Reverse Discard. In discarding the play of a high and then a lower card in the same suit reverses the original meaning of the discard.

If you adopt the strength discard, and wish to throw away your weak suit at a high and then a lower card of the same suit.

If you use the weak discard, and wish to throw away your strong suit, discard first a high and then a lower card of the same suit.

Be sure of two discards before using the reverse discard.

Here is another discard often used. The discard of a seven spot or higher indicates strength; under the seven spot indicates weakness. This method is not dependable for frequently the hand may not hold the required cards to permit the use of the above.

The discard of an ace shows great strength in that suit. Watch the Declarant's discards and protect the suit that he is saving.

After you have led or shown your suit, the reverse discard shows command third round of that suit.

In discarding at no-trump, don't throw away all cards of one suit. This exposes your partner's hand and makes it easy for the Declarant to place the strength of that suit, and you may need one card of that suit to put your partner in the lead again.

If partner is discarding from weakness, protect as far as possible the suit he is throwing away.

If forced to protect honors in other suits, don't be afraid to unguard honors in the suit in which partner is strong.

If a player has led one suit, and later in the game discards a high card of another, it shows a re-entry in the latter suit.

It is not always possible, and sometimes very difficult, to show which honor to keep protected.

Strict watch should be kept on partner's discard, and the same suit should not be thrown away or trashed from both hands.

higher card, shows a desire to have that suit led.

Q. A is dealer and bids one heart. B bids one spade. C bids two hearts. What should D bid with the following hand?

Spades—Jack, 8, 5, 4, 2.
Clubs—King, 10, 6, 4, 3.
Diamonds—Queen, 7, 4.
Hearts—None.

A. D should bid two spades. D not only holds a trick in each off suit, (King of Clubs and Queen of Diamonds), but he has absolutely no cards of the suit the opponent is bidding. He can use his small trumps to ruff the Heart suit. Also, B must have at least four spades and three honors, or five spades and two honors, one of which must be the Ace or King. Therefore the combined strength of the two hands, B's and D's, must be great enough even to raise more than once.

JUSTICE IS SLOW.

Augustus Crawfish took a gun, and slew his neighbor, Jabez Spry; he doubtless did it just for fun—I know no other reason why. When man has nothing sane to do the time hangs heavy on his hands, and so he kills a friend or two, and later in the dock he stands. And there Augustus took his place, and through long weary weeks was tried—it was a celebrated case—and experts rose and testified; and witnesses in drowsy herds blew into court to have their say, and learned attorneys, who were birds, talked hours and days and weeks away. At last the jury had a chance, and found him guilty of the crime; Augustus, then, it seemed might dance on air at some appointed time. But lo, his learned attorneys saw a misplaced comma in some writ, declared it was a fatal flaw, and pawed the floor and threw a fit. The jurist listened to their burst of eloquence, and took a pen, and wrote, "The judgment is reversed—Augustus must be tried again." The second trial, of snail-like speed, became a chestnut and a bore, and then the jury disagreed, and Crawfish must be tried once more. This Jabez Spry has long been dead, long since he closed life's little page; his slayer yet will die in bed of ailments incident to age.

BIJOU Theater To-Night

The wife—the husband—and the mutual friend! You've seen such characters in other stories—but never before in one so amazing as this! A wife who goes into marriage with a lie on her lips; a husband who finds that lie and waits; a friend who had loved the woman once—still loved her, some said—and tried to bring happiness to a home bereft of it. They, and the child, sweep to a climax of drama, surprise and absolute amazement.

The Child Thou Gavest Me

Four famous players, Lewis Stone, Barbara Castleton, William Desmond and little Dick Headrick, the wonder child.

The Markets

Agriculture

The most conspicuous, and in some ways the most powerful, group in American politics is the so-called Agricultural bloc, composed of Senators from agricultural states bent on securing legislation to ameliorate the extreme conditions in agriculture. No group is more talked about.

The Agricultural bloc is more than a chance coalition for the achievement of a particular end. It is the outgrowth of an unusual, complex, and vexing situation. It is causing much perturbation to old-line Republican leaders and has destroyed the unity of the party on some of its outstanding policies.

The bloc in its present form will undoubtedly pass with the passage of the need in agriculture to meet which it sprang into being. At the same time it marks the growing determination of the farmers to participate more directly and more frequently in farming legislation. The American farmer may hereafter be represented in Congress by a group pledged to act unitedly when they feel that the vital interests of their constituents are implicated.

Each main occupational group has a right to some measure of group representation in legislative halls so that its interests may be protected. Business, agriculture, and labor have their advocates when the occasion arises. But in all matters of national concern these groups should and, it is to be hoped, always will merge their interests.

To the American farmer, who thinks of the Argentine as a competitor in the world markets, the announcement comes with interest that Argentine farmer is likewise hard hit by world depression and unemployment, that agricultural exports from that country are decreasing, and that special credit extensions are contemplated. Large food producing countries like the United States, Argentina, and Australia, naturally reflect the conditions which exist in countries consuming their exportable surplus—so large a factor in the prosperity of the producing industry.

A scaling down of the principal owed to this country by the Allies seems not unreasonable in view of the prices charged by American producers for goods the war loans purchased. Following strict business practice, this country took full advantage of the situation created by the war and European buyers paid twice and three times what the goods had cost a few years previous. High prices reacted like a boomerang "on the sellers." The best way to restore international prosperity may be to deflate foreign loans in harmony with prices and wages. The unit of currency used to pay off these debts ten or fifty years hence will have a much greater purchasing power and be worth proportionately more than the same unit at the time the loan was made.

America, as is her custom, will adopt the shrewdest business policy.

Stocks

The volume of stock market transactions has been comparatively light since the beginning of the year. Easy money has not encouraged the general public to borrow for speculative purposes, and public interest in the market is still at low ebb. Professionals are dominant and as a result, and in absence of decided improvement in business, the price movement has been irregular. Minor news of the kind that now predominates, apart from international affairs, has little permanent effect on values. Eventually renewed activity in industry will show itself and the monetary ease will make stocks paying more than ordinary commercial interest rates very attractive.

Grain

Wheat has suffered from Australian and Argentine competition and from an absence of speculation interest. Wheat statistics show that no large world surplus exists, and should bring conditions unfavorable to the new crop, prices would almost certainly advance materially. The Southwest until a very recent date was still suffering from drought. The mills do not seem inclined to anticipate their requirements, and traders generally are marking time. Corn and oats lack special features.

Livestock

Chicago packing houses are operating on a nearly normal basis, according to reports emanating from this center of the livestock industry, but the market becomes easily congested as is its wont, and values rapidly become impaired. Price movements have been rather violent since the new year. Hogs lost their advance, while live mutton held to its higher level. The visible supply is strongly held, it seems. A liberal supply of hogs and cattle is expected for the next month of six weeks. Lamb feeders show confidence.

Wool

Fine wools are in demand with the supply insufficient, while mediums have been resorted to increasing. The market has been quite active with prices rising since the year began. The rise in prices during the last quarter of 1921 was notable. Primary markets abroad show evidence of strength with prices tending upward. The carpet mills are busy and will need wool sooner or later. Stocks of wool unsold in the Boston market on December 31 were less than half those a year ago. The government will hold its next auction in February and, it is expected, will close out its stock of war and retire from the wool business.

Cotton

Cotton made no real gain during the first fortnight of the new year and continues depressed by world unemployment and the limited demands from the textile industry. The new crop is already being discussed. The price of cotton as compared with grains favors an increase in acreage. Against this may be set prospective insect damage. American spinners in takings in December, it is encouraging to note, were greater than in pre-war years and much greater than in December, 1920.

Metals

No genuine revival of buying in the iron and steel trade has yet appeared, although consumers' stocks of iron are not large. January will be a dull month. Copper holds around the 14c level without market feature.

WILBERFORCE

Chaplain T. G. Steward who was called to Gouldtown, N. J., to attend the funeral of his brother, Mr. Stephen Steward, has returned home.

Mrs. John Green has gone to Daytona, Florida for the benefit of her health and will remain until Spring.

As the result of a spread given by a few of the young ladies of Arnett Hall Saturday night, several of the guests were taken ill with ptomaine poisoning. Misses Lucille Williams, Cordie Penn, Clementine Nelson, Anna Lee Boone, Jeannette Diggs, Rhoda Fountain and Myrtle Hickman were rushed to Tawawa Hospital and medical treatment administered by the school physician, Dr. Harry Lackey. It is thought they were poisoned by eating canned salmon.

The funeral of Rev. Johnson, assistant Principal of Tuggle Institute, Birmingham, Ala., who died last week in a hospital from an operation, was held in the North Street A. M. E. church in Springfield, Monday, Bishop J. H. Jones officiating. The deceased was well known throughout Ohio and was a strong supporter of the university and was the cause of many students from the south attending the school. Many of his friends attended the funeral from the nearby cities. Those from the community were Messrs. William Hunnicutt, Howard Letcher, Chas. S. Smith, Matha Steward, George Bowles, George Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Griggs and Mrs. Charles Mason.

Mr. W. H. Baker, representing the chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha of the University, who attended the 14th annual convention in Baltimore, Md., during the holidays, made a splendid report to the local chapter Saturday night. Three hundred delegates from all parts of the United States, representing thirty-eight chapters located at sixty of the largest universities and colleges were present and one hundred college women came as visitors. The program of the convention was followed through with interest and notable events. Each delegate surcharged with Alpha Phi Alphaism pledged to greater efforts in uplift and service as the New Year ushered in. The session were held under the direction of its National officers: S. S. Booker, President, Baltimore; E. J. Cheeks, Vice President, Cleveland; Norman L. McGhee, Secretary, Washington; Dr. Eomer C. Cooper, Treasurer, Chicago and Carl J. Murphy, editor of The Sphinx, Baltimore. The entire delegation of the convention made a pilgrimage to the home of Frederick Douglass in Anacostia, D. C. The principal address of the occasion was delivered by Dean George William Cook, a personal friend of Douglas. Dr. George Hall of Chicago addressed the public session upon the subject "Leadership and Life." George B. Kelley, one of the founders of the fraternity, discusses its relationship to Alpha Phi Alpha under the sub-

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back-ache or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure, makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

ject, "Ideals of Alpha Phi Alpha," the following officers were elected to conduct the fraternity's program for the year 1922: Simeon S. Booker, president; Norman L. McGhee, secretary; Homer Cooper, treasurer; Dr. J. H. Hilburn, 1st Vice-president; Chas. Alexander, 2nd vice president, and Carl J. Murphy, editor. The members of the National Commission are Daniel W. Bowles, W. J. Powell, Homer Cooper, R. O. Lanier, W. H. Baker and Homer Brown. The 15th Annual Convention will be held at the seat of the Epsilon Lambda Chapter, St. Louis, Mo., December 27th to 31, 1922.

Styles BY LENORE

Although many radical changes in fashion had been expected at the outset of the season, except for the lengthening of skirts, we seem to have gone through the winter in a silhouette that differs but little from that of last year.

After all, essential changes in fashion take a long time to become established, and a woman who is careful to choose a model that is not too extreme may depend on that dress to retain its style for at least two or three seasons.

In the sketch is shown a frock that promises much in the way of lasting style and service. It is the kind of model that may be made up in serge—kasha cloth is to be popular this Spring—or in a heavy crepe silk, and will be most attractive in navy blue red crepe or henna of Pompeian fold at the neck. This latter is caught in a little buckle, and the colored portion of the sleeve is trimmed with bands of the darker material.

TODAY'S TALKS

WINTER

Those who have never known the Winter of show and sleigh bells have missed a great deal.

But there are other thoughts that are even nearer and dearer to me when Winter comes. I think of the sleeping roots and bulbs and blossoms, and the hiding sap.

And how beautiful are the flakes of snow which fall so silently from the sky! Why is it that these flakes are so perfect, so beautifully form? And why are they always the same in proportion and arrangement? They are works of art in themselves—more intricately made than any hand could fashion.

Put the snowflake under the microscope and get a thrill! When I look at one of these tiny masterpieces, I compare their beauty with that of the rose and the lily and tell myself that I wouldn't know how to disbelieve in a great God if I wanted to.

I love the cold snap of the Winter wind, and the songs which it sings.

Winter, I sometimes think of you as a kind father, or some special friend. You take me apart and talk to me about so many interesting happenings, I look upon you as a teacher. You help to rest my eyes for the loveliness of Spring and Summer and tell me about the golden tints of Autumn. I like you, Winter!

One never knows real whiteness until the lap of the Earth is filled with snow.

Often I sit upon my bed before rising and look out of my window at the sparkling gown of Winter. How restful and soothing the picture is—and how free!

I wouldn't want to live where Winter never came. Any more than I would want to live if I knew that age wouldn't creep on—gracefully.

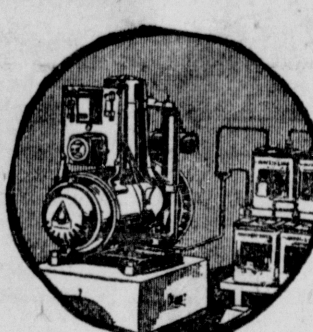

Winter, you spread soft shadows across my soul. You put poems into my heart. You sweeten my dreams and make my bones and muscles strong for the contest of life.

Winter only stays around for a short time. Love it while you may!

SAYRE & HEMPHILL

Some Aspects of the Farmers' Problems

By BERNARD M. BARUCH

(Reprinted from Atlantic Monthly)

The whole rural world is in a ferment of unrest, and there is an unparalleled volume and intensity of determined, if not angry, protest, and an ominous swarming of occupational conferences, interest groupings, political movements and propaganda. Such a turmoil cannot but arrest our attention. Indeed, it demands our careful study and examination. It is not likely that six million aloof and ruggedly independent men have come together and banded themselves into active unions, societies, farm bureaus, and so forth, for no sufficient cause.

Investigation of the subject conclusively proves that, while there is much overstatement of grievances and misconception of remedies, the farmers are right in complaining of wrongs long endured, and right in holding that it is feasible to relieve their ills with benefit to the rest of the community. This being the case of an industry that contributes, in the raw material form alone, about one-third of the national annual wealth production and is the means of livelihood of about 49 per cent of the population, it is obvious that the subject is one of grave concern. Not only do the farmers make up one-half of the nation, but the well-being of the other half depends upon them.

So long as we have nations, a wise political economy will aim at a large degree of national self-sufficiency and self-containment. Rome fell when the food supply was too far removed from the belly. Like her, we shall destroy our own agriculture and extend our sources of food distantly and precariously, if we do not see to it that our farmers are well and fairly paid for their services. The farm gives the nation men as well as food. Cities derive their vitality and are forever renewed from the country, but an impoverished countryside exports intelligence and retains unintelligence. Only the lower grades of mentality and character will remain on, or seek, the farm, unless agriculture is capable of being pursued with contentment and adequate compensation. Hence, to embitter and impoverish the farmer is to dry up and contaminate the vital sources of the nation.

The war showed convincingly how dependent the nation is on the full productivity of the farms. Despite herculean efforts, agricultural production kept only a few weeks or months ahead of consumption, and that only by increasing the acreage of certain staple crops at the cost of reducing that of others. We ought not to forget that lesson when we ponder on the farmer's problems. They are truly common problems, and there should be no attempt to deal with them as if they were purely selfish demands of a clear-cut group, antagonistic to the rest of the community. Rather should we consider agriculture in the light of broad national policy, just as we consider oil, coal, steel, dye-stuffs, and so forth, as sinews of national strength. Our growing population and a higher standard of living demand increasing food supplies, and more wool, cotton, hides, and the rest. With the disappearance of free or cheap fertile land, additional acreage and increased yields can come only from costly effort. This we need not expect from an impoverished or unhappy rural population.

It will not do to take a narrow view of the rural discontent, or to appraise it from the standpoint of yesterday. This is peculiarly an age of flux and change and new deals. Because a thing always has been so no longer means that it is right, or always shall be so. More, perhaps, than ever before, there is a widespread feeling that all human relations can be improved by taking thought, and that it is not becoming for the reasoning animal to leave his destiny largely to chance and natural incidence.

Prudent and orderly adjustment of production and distribution in accordance with consumption is recognized as wise management in every business but that of farming. Yet, I venture to say, there is no other industry in which it is so important to the public—to the city-dweller—that production should be sure, steady, and increasing, and that distribution should be in proportion to the need. The unorganized farmers naturally act blindly and impulsively and, in consequence, surfeit and dearth, accompanied by disconcerting price-variations, harass the consumer. One year potatoes rot in the fields because of excess production, and there is a scarcity of the things that have been displaced to make way for the expansion of the potato acreage; next year the punished farmers mass their fields on some other crop, and potatoes enter the class of luxuries; and so on.

Agriculture is the greatest and fundamentally the most important of our American industries. The cities are but the branches of the tree of national life, the roots of which go deeply into the land. We all flourish or decline with the farmer. So, when we of the cities read of the present universal distress of the farmers, of a slump of six billion dollars in the farm value of their crops in a single year, of their inability to meet mortgages or to pay current bills, and how, seeking relief from their ills, they are planning to form pools, inaugurate farmers' strikes, and demand legislation abolishing grain exchanges, private cattle markets, and the like, we ought not hastily to brand them as economic heretics and highwaymen, and hurl at them the charge of being seekers of special privilege. Rather, we should ask if their trouble is not ours, and see what can be done to improve the situation. Purely from self-interest, if for no higher motive, we should help them. All of us want to get back permanently to "normalcy," but it is reasonable to hope for that condition unless our greatest and most basic industry can be put on a sound and solid permanent foundation? The farmers are not entitled to special privileges; but are they not right in demanding that they be placed on an equal footing with the buyers of their products and with other industries?

I work in a tailor shop and that line of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I do not like to take any chances, so I consulted my friends, and one lady said, 'Take Lydia Pinkham's medicine,' so I did. I have felt better right along and am in good enough health to go to work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash to all."—Mrs. MARY ENRICO, 459 N. Carpenter St., Chicago, Illinois.

Yet, I venture to say, there is no other industry in which it is so important to the public—to the city-dweller—that production should be sure, steady, and increasing, and that distribution should be in proportion to the need. The unorganized farmers naturally act blindly and impulsively and, in consequence, surfeit and dearth, accompanied by disconcerting price-variations, harass the consumer. One year potatoes rot in the fields because of excess production, and there is a scarcity of the things that have been displaced to make way for the expansion of the potato acreage; next year the punished farmers mass their fields on some other crop, and potatoes enter the class of luxuries; and so on.

Agriculture is the greatest and fundamentally the most important of our American industries. The cities are but the branches of the tree of national life, the roots of which go deeply into the land. We all flourish or decline with the farmer. So, when we of the cities read of the present universal distress of the farmers, of a slump of six billion dollars in the farm value of their crops in a single year,

BOWEL INDIGESTION RELIEVED QUICKLY

New York Woman Warmly Praises Jacques' Little Wonder Capsules

"I have taken your Little Wonder Capsules and want to express my appreciation to you for the wonderful results that I have so far obtained. I have been suffering from indigestion of the bowels for a long time. Since taking these wonderful capsules, my appetite has increased and assimilation of the food that I take seems to be perfect."

This is an exact copy of a letter written by Miss Louise M. Bruning, of 255 W. 52d St., New York City, praising Jacques' Little Wonder Capsules.

Jacques' Little Wonder Capsules contain a number of standard medicines acknowledged to be correctives in treating certain gastric and intestinal disturbances. A single capsule goes direct to the spot and gives prompt and beneficial results in mild and acute cases of indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation.

On sale by D. D. Jones, 43 East Main St., Xenia, Ohio; or 60 cents by mail postpaid for large package from Jacques Capsule Co., Plattsburg, N. Y.

THE BAKING POWDER QUESTION SOLVED

Most housewives proclaim that the baking powder question was solved for them the moment they used the first spoonful of Calumet. After that no doubt remained—no hoping—no searching for a perfect leavener—no wondering if bakings would "turn out all right."

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

has solved the question because in all these thirty years it has never failed to produce wholesome and appetizing foods at an economical cost. It is as pure and sure as any baking powder ever made.

Calumet is more economical than other brands selling for less because its quality is the highest—no losses from spoiled bakings.

Use Calumet once—that's enough to prove to you that it's "best by test."

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY FIVE CLASSES IN BIBLE CONTEST

One hundred and twenty-five Sunday School classes with a combined membership of over 2,000 pupils, are now enrolled over the county in the Four-Square Bible Contest which is now in full swing throughout the county.

Each class is striving to excel its past record, and records attained by the classes so far, and the results that have been evident during the three weeks of the campaign, indicate that many will go "over the top" in the campaign before it is brought to a conclusion.

The goal for the twelve weeks' campaign is 5,000 credits, and with only three weeks gone, many classes have attained more than one-third of that amount. According to H. C.

Aultman, county superintendent of schools, who is head of the committee in charge of the campaign, dead classes are being resurrected and the activities of live classes are marked.

One result of the campaign has been to inspire activities in classes, other than those for which they are given credit on their reports. These take shape in the organization of quartettes and glee clubs, receptions of one class to another, classes visiting sick members and bringing flowers to the sick, union meetings of classes in the community, and one class played a part in the contribution of an automobile by a congregation to its pastor.

The record of activities to date, is convincing members of the executive committee, that the campaign is attaining success.

A Message to Feeble Old People

Erie, Pa.—"I am nearly 80 years old, and influenza left me weak, run-down and nervous so I could hardly keep around and do my work. I tried different remedies but did not seem to gain. I read about Vinol and tried a bottle. In a few days I began to recuperate and it certainly did me a world of good. I feel much better and stronger in every way. My sister, who is 86 years old, has also taken Vinol with excellent results."—Mrs. JULIA M. RATHBUN, 1010 French Street, Erie, Pa.

WORK IS SOUGHT BY MEN THROUGH SOCIAL SERVICE

Daily calls are made at the Social Service League by men about the city who are out of work and are willing and anxious to secure employment of any kind.

A few cases that are in need of immediate attention are cited by Mrs. Carrie I. Robertson, secretary of the League:

One man asked for an old tree to cut down, that he might have some fuel.

Many are asking for food, clothing and shoes.

"If these men can get little jobs of work that bring them 25 to 50 cents. It helps them to buy a few meals," Mrs. Robertson said.

"Haven't you a little job in the cellar, or a little repairing or some job that you are going to have done when housecleaning time comes, that you could have done now?" is the question that officials of the league, are asking to aid the needy.

"Most of these men say they do not want charity they want work," said Mrs. Robertson, "and fifty cents is a great deal of money just now to those who are cold and hungry."

With "Red" Anderson connecting with the net from every angle on the court, and the smooth-running team of the John Roan Post never running smoother, the locals had an easy evening's past-time defeating the Fast Blacks of Marysville at the Rink, Monday night by a 39 to 16 score.

The Fast Blacks were not so fast as their name implied in spite of efforts on the part of the local management to obtain a strong team and assurances from Marysville that the athletes from that garden sport would be able to give the Legion five a real game.

The lineup and summary: Legion—39 Marysville—16 Anderson L. F. Wilkeson Lewis R. F. Parries Harris C. Callaway Smith L. G. Depp Powers R. G. Lyman Substitutions: Xenia—Hill for Powers, Watkins for Smith, Dickinson for Harris; Marysville: Papp for Lyman, Field goals: Anderson 10, Lewis 6 Harris 1. Wilkeson 2, Parries 1, Depp 1. BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

Girl—It is not unusual for the feet and hands to attain their full growth long before the body has completed its development. It is this which some times makes growing boys and girls feel so awkward. As you are only 16 years of age you probably have another five years in which to grow, during which time neither your feet nor hands may change. The fact fact that you are married should not cause you to change the way you have been wearing your hair. If wearing it short and in curls is becoming to you, continue with that style.

Lady—It will take from a month to six weeks to throw off the dark shade of the dye, after which your hair will be more becoming. The return to the natural shade will be a gradual process after this, covering a period of about six months or longer.

Miss Please—The active vermin can be destroyed by soaking the hair in kerosene. Do this before retiring and tie the head up in a towel overnight. Shampoo the next day. This should be followed by thorough combing with a fine-toothed comb kept wet with vinegar, to remove the tiny white shells that have clung to the shaft of hair.

Anna T.—The "permanent wave" lasts about six months. The fact that you have had this done should make no difference in the care of the hair as water is not supposed to affect the wave. It is professional work and you could not do it at home.

Lonely A.—While it seems very hard to you just now, you are fortunate to find out before it is too late that the young man no longer cares for the friendship. I would not write again as you know that he re-writes your letter, but would find new friends and fresh interests. This is the only way to forget him and go on building up a new future for yourself. In a little while you will be glad it happened, as you should not want to hold some one who no longer reciprocated your feelings toward him. This would ruin your life, while if you keep yourself from being embittered by this experience, there will be someone later who will care for and appreciate you. You will look back then on this as having been the most fortunate thing that could have happened to you.

Ignorant—A girl who can write such a good letter should not feel embarrassed about her replies to people. You say you would like to know some commonplace expressions to use. How much better it would be if you kept right on as you are, or improving on this. The trouble is not with yourself it is with the people you are now meeting. Cultivate other and more intelligent people who are aspiring like yourself.

Tomorrow—Sunning the hair.

STALE BLOOD AFFECTS FEELINGS

Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood, Restores Healthy Glow.

It is gradually, very gradually, that the effects of weakened blood become apparent. Generally there is a feeling of lassitude. It is like a harmless, lazy heaviness, and the complexion becomes muddy.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is the very first thing a woman should think of taking for a stale-looking complexion. It drives out the poisons that ruin complexions.

But it is not only the effect that Gude's Pepto-Mangan has upon the complexion that makes it so valuable. New healthy blood causes an improvement in feelings, a return to the usual style of enthusiasm, a sensation of warmth and glow, an appetite that eagerly awaits eating time. Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes new blood. It comes in liquid, or tablet form, both having the same medicinal value. The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on every package. adv

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE PHELPS

JACK TAKES THE BIT IN HIS TEETH FOR ONCE

CHAPTER 21.

Jack Hunter paid no visible attention to Helen's complaint about what her mother would do could she know how terribly he treated her daughter. To tell the truth, Jack had become pretty well hardened to what "mother would do" under almost any circumstance. He took a book and commenced to read.

"Aren't you going to help me clean up?" Helen asked after a moment.

"Not tonight. There's only the breakfast dishes. I see you didn't worry to get out fresh ones for your dinner."

"Dinner! I've had no dinner! There was nothing in the house to eat."

"That's up to you."

"Up to me! You know I have no money. I told you I hadn't. And I didn't wake up until 7 o'clock. Then seeing that Jack had no disposition to talk with her, she added, "I couldn't telephone then, the markets were all closed. It's just like a man to go out and get what he wants whether any one else has anything or not!"

"Yes, some men—all perhaps under provocation." Jack's even tone was maddening to the angry woman.

"Provocation! It's I that had it, not you! Why, my friends would think you terrible if they knew."

"Yes?" he went on reading.

"Mother—"

"Your mother has passed away; why not let her rest in peace, and talk of the living? See here, Helen, I'm about as tired as a man can be. I worked all night, left the house clean, and all the dishes cleaned up for you. I come home to find you still in bed, and even the few breakfast things on the table. I can't see what you are thinking of; such work belongs to a woman, and every wife who wants—really cares to help her husband—does it gladly. All day I have chased around and have accomplished nothing, partly because I was too tired, too worried to be convincing I shall read half an hour—if you will let me—then go to bed."

"Don't be such a grouch! I'm sure you could have insured someone if you had tried. You don't need to blame me for it!"

A silence ensued. Then—
"There's an awfully good movie at the Castle. I wanted you to take me."

Jack made no answer.
"Did you hear?" Helen asked.

"Certainly! I'm not deaf." He turned a page.

"I said I wanted you to take me to the movie. We've just time to get there before the second show."

"Yes?"

"Do hurry, Jack," she pinned on her hat which she had tossed on a chair when she sat down to eat.

"I'm not going out."

"Please go, Jack! You never take me anywhere, and everyone is talking about that picture."

"Let them talk!" he replied "shortly," "and, Helen, I said I wanted to read."

"What I want never seems to count with you—not any more."

"Perhaps—when you are unreasonable."

"I'm not unreasonable. I'm young and like a good time."

"You have slept part of the night Jack arrives."

and nearly all day. I have not closed my eyes for 24 hours. I certainly shall not go to a picture show. I see you are determined I shall read, so good-night, I'm going to turn in."

"I'll go by myself."

"Very well."

"You'll have to give me some money."

"I have none for you. It will be hard work to pay the bills you have run for that party. Unless I get some business soon I don't see how I ever can pay them. I don't spend another cent for pleasure until we get cleaned up. You'll have to be satisfied with your party."

Helen commenced to cry—not loudly, but in that sobbing, tantalizing way that is worse. Jack fidgeted. Finally he got up and went into the bedroom and closed the door.

Helen stopped crying. Jack hadn't even tried to comfort her. He didn't love her any more. So she said to herself. Then she went up to Mrs. Layton's. She wasn't sleepy if Jack was. So she played bridge until 1 o'clock, then came down and went to bed, determined to make Jack suffer because of his actions.

"I shan't kiss him goodbye or anything!" she said childishly as she listened to his heavy breathing, the breathing of a tired man.

A. & J. Frank, The Brokers Say:

Pessimistic investors are needlessly sacrificing good securities

Don't sacrifice your holdings in good companies. There are a number of large concerns, with good products and excellent management, whose stocks are practically going to go up today. These companies are suffering the results of the past period of business depression. Many investors holding such stocks as are listed below have become uneasy and are selling at any price.

Business revival will bring increased earnings and higher quotations

Amer. Stamp & Enam. Co. Miami Cycle Co.
Beaver Board Co. Old stock
Burton Townsend Brick Co. Metropolitan Engineering Co.
Canton Steel Foundry National Reduction Co.
Central Metal Products Co. Ralston Steel Car Co. com.
Central Steel Co. Republic Rubber Co.
Garford Motor Truck Co. Troy Wagon Works

America is economically sound—nothing can retard the steady growth of business

These companies are making many of the necessities of life; articles that we in our modern way of living depend upon to a very great extent. Temporarily, these products are not in great demand. However, they have the same standard of quality and they enjoy the same nation wide good will as the day when you bought the stocks. In many cases these concerns have very efficient production and sales departments, which, together with already established distribution channels, are awaiting the word, "Go," to again start business on a normal scale.

Business is gradually approaching normal times

It is but a matter of time until business will recover its normal aspects, earnings increase and stock market quotations seek higher levels. It is our suggestion that the investor follow the example of successful business men—buy stocks of sound concerns at low levels and hold for future increases.

Many of the R. L. Dollings Co. issues net almost 8%.

We have many of the R. L. Dollings Co. issues for sale at 50%, which will net the investor almost 8%.

BUY NOW—We help finance purchases

Investors who own Ohio stocks at higher prices can substantially reduce their cost per share by purchasing additional shares at the present bargain counter prices. In many instances we can lend up to one half of the purchase price. By putting up additional collateral we can furnish the full amount. Again we say—don't sacrifice your holdings—unless it is absolutely necessary—in which case we will be glad to serve you.

Many of these attractively priced Ohio industrials purchased now should show splendid profits to the holder
